AI Government Leadership Program Summer 2027

Applications will open February 4 and close on March 4, 2027. Acceptance emails will be sent by March 25, 2027.

Artificial Intelligence has the potential to improve how government works- more so than any other recent technological innovation. For government leaders to capitalize on these benefits, they must understand how to guide their organizations' AI strategy.

Launched by the Partnership for Public Service in 2019, the AI Government Leadership Program educates senior government leaders on identifying opportunities for AI progress in their agencies.

As this is not a technical training, the program is designed to:

- Educate organization decision-makers on the opportunities around AI.
- Highlight best practices for promoting and developing AI solutions.
- Prepare senior leaders to incorporate AI technology into their business strategies and equip their workforce to responsibly use AI.

TUITION
This program is offered at no cost to participants or their workplaces thanks to generous sponsorship from Microsoft and Google.org.

WHO SHOULD APPLY
Senior government leaders, including federal SES/Equivalents and GS-15s and state or local government leaders in executive positions, are encouraged to participate. Technical AI knowledge is not expected nor necessary for acceptance into the program.

LOCATION
The Summer 2027 AI Government Leadership Program cycle will be largely hosted virtually. All sessions will take place on Zoom for Government.

TIME COMMITMENT
The program consists of a one-hour virtual orientation and six half-day sessions presented over four months. Each session is three hours: all federal sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to noon ET and state/local sessions will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. ET. Once accepted into the program, each participant will be assigned to a cohort led by an executive coach.

Participants are expected to attend all sessions, and acceptance into the program is competitive, so applicants should review the course schedule and confirm their availability before applying. Exceptions can be made for family and work-related emergencies.
